

Everything Under the Sun....

Dear Friends,

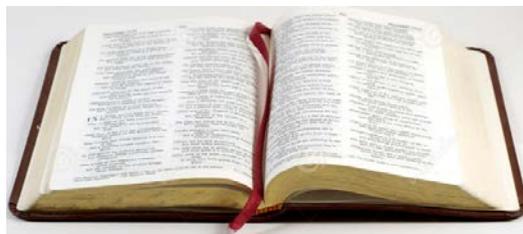

Allow me to tell you the sad tale of Zedekiah.

The second book of Kings tells us that around 587 BCE, in the middle of the night, the last remaining king of Israel took all of his soldiers, breached the besieged wall, and fled the city. The Babylonian army pursued and captured Zedekiah, sacked Jerusalem, executed its leadership and exiled the population, leaving only the poorest to tend the crops so it could continue to feed its massive army. The nation of Israel was no more.

It's so easy to blame Zedekiah, and in fact he was a coward, a traitor, a puppet king for Babylon, selfish, and may have been rumored to have had strangely small hands. But the reality was that it wasn't Zedekiah that caused the destruction of Israel, it was over 500 years of decisions that led to that point. Without checks and balances, the system of judges that Moses set up before he died became corrupt.

This led to a collapse in the judicial system, church and state merged, and a theocracy was born. Corruption in the temple during the rule of the priest Eli caused a scandal that transitioned the government from theocracy to monarchy. Solomon built temples for his many wives' gods, ones who demanded child sacrifice like Molech and Ba-al.

The great nation of Israel split shortly after. The north fought the south, and neither acknowledged the legitimacy of the others' leaders. When the Assyrians came looking for their next conquest, Northern Israel was easy pickings. It took barely 10 years of deportations, threats, extracting tributes, sowing discord, and hand-picking leaders with conflicts of interest to take every bit of wealth from the country and liquidate its assets. 134 years later when Zedekiah decided to rebel against the Babylonians who were using the same strategy, the people were too weak, disillusioned, and divided to mount a proper defense. Zedekiah knew his number was up and took the army and fled, leaving a weakened population defenseless.

The book of Ecclesiastes tells us "What has been is what will be, and what has been done is what will be done; there is nothing new under the sun." (1:9)

I ask that you pray with me that we not repeat the past. I urge you to find the common ground with the people you think you most disagree with—we are a united nation, not two sides. Remember that the real threat is those who are worshipping the false gods of power and money, those who are willing to sacrifice the next generation, the most vulnerable, to enrich and empower themselves.

Remember that while the Babylonians were creating a flurry of scandal by arguing loudly and publicly about what purpose treaties with Israel's allies really served, demanding loyalty in return for prosperity, and arguing about which religion in which nation was more real, they simultaneously and quietly were moving in troops, appointing leaders with conflicts of interest, and removing checks and balances in order to concentrate power and then extract wealth without accountability—their real goals.

Always follow the money. Speak the truth and use your voice where it most counts: in our system of checks of balances and with leadership that represents the people. Do not let weariness or despair or the urge to flee creep in. God is working through those willing to be the hands and feet of Christ.

God is working through the prophets and the peacemakers, those who are speaking their truth with great fear and trembling. Let us listen to them, and then become one.

Amen, Pastor Tracy

PLEDGE CHALLENGE GRANT UPDATE IS GOOD NEWS

The Congregation responded generously to the Challenge Grant. We now have $8400 in new or increased pledges which will be matched by an anonymous donor. This donor will match up to $10,000, so let's not leave the last $1600 unmatched. Fill out the Gold pledge sheet, or let any trustee know if you want to pledge or increase your pledge so we can claim the matching income.

NEWS FROM THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

New water heater

Special thanks to the Golden Gals, who are sponsoring the purchase and installation of a small tank electric water heater in the Community Room kitchenette. The existing spot hot water facet is dangerously hot and difficult to operate, so this will be a welcome addition for small clean-up jobs. The water heater has been ordered and expected to arrive the first week of February.

Sink Hole

During the December and early January storms the drain near the entrance to the church got blocked and water flooded down the street. The resulting lake at the intersection of Merrydale and North San Pedro even made the KCBS TV news.

The sinkhole and blockage was on property in the SMART right of way. Since then, temporary work was done to correct the problem, and the late January storms did not result in flooding. The first week of February, SMART is arranging for more permanent solutions to be constructed. Thanks to Louis Frost for keeping on top of the situation and meeting several times with SMART officials to clarify the problem and discuss solutions

MARIN CROP HUNGER WALK MARCH 12

CROP Hunger Walks are community-wide events where folks from different faiths, cultures, and school groups work together to help address the horrors of hunger in our world – even for those battling hunger in our own city of San Rafael.

Everyone who wants to participate is asked to seek donations from neighbors, family, and friends. Then on the afternoon of Sunday, March 12, all who sign up to walk the 3K route in downtown San Rafael will be carrying banners and hoping to gather additional support from merchants along the way. The steps we take, and the funds we raise, will make a real difference! Step Up! We need you.

MOVIE NIGHT - FEBRUARY 24 - LOVE IS ALL YOU NEED

Our February movie is a romantic comedy with a difference. The difference is that it was made by Oscar-winning Danish filmmaker Susanne Bier (Brothers, In a Better World) not the usual suspects from Hollywood or the U.K. The result is a Rom-Com for grownups. Think Nora Ephron meets Ingmar Bergman.

The setting is a wedding in a beautiful village on the Italian seaside, and the focus is on the parents more than the happy couple. The mother of the bride, played by Danish actress Trine Dyrholm, is a hairdresser from Copenhagen, leading a quiet life of desperation in a failed marriage. The father of the groom (Pierce Brosnan) is a wealthy English businessman, whose pose as a carefree playboy is wearing thin. They meet for the first time on the way to the wedding, and complications ensue.

Instead of laugh-out-loud moments, expect a lot of quiet smiles and nods. Instead of soaring strings and a rush into each others' arms, expect a prickly, slow-motion mating dance that feels much more like real life.

And, if this sounds a little slow-moving, you can just relax and enjoy the fabulous scenic Italian eye-candy.

Friday February 24 in the DeHaan Center in Pilgrim Park

There are few surprises in Love Is All You Need, other than the understated way Bier treats moment that in mainstream cinema would be overplayed and underlined (and italicized in case you missed the point.) Like the lemons that appear throughout the film as a visual and thematic motif, Love Is All You Need embraces the bitter with the sweet. Its idea of escapist romantic fantasy is to recognize the most sour of life's circumstances and simply make lemonade.

One of Pilgrim Park’s residents is currently involved with an event that some call a miracle that happened many years ago in a land across the sea.

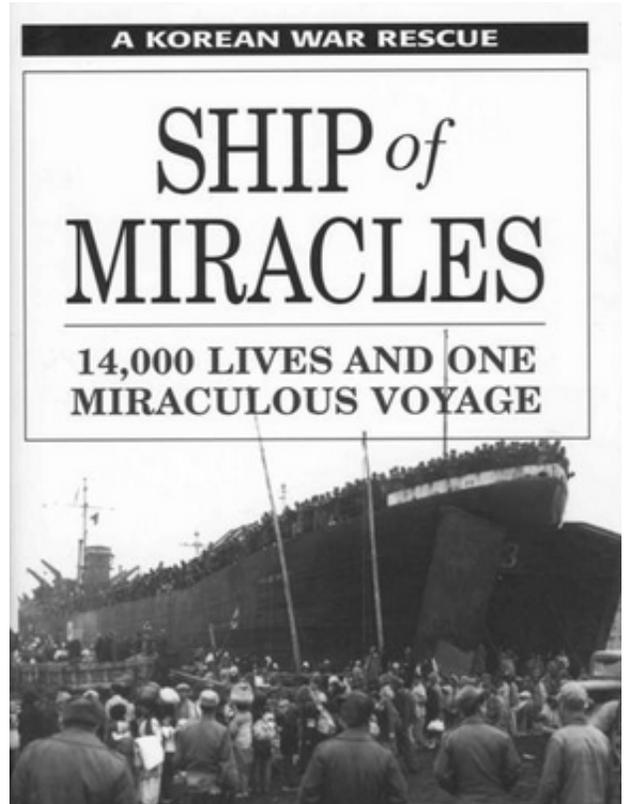

In December 1950 the Chinese and North Korean armies were advancing rapidly south on the Korean peninsula with retreating US and South Korean armies and refugees in front of them. A large group of North Korean refugees had gathered in a port city that was surrounded by the Chinese. The skipper of the SS Meredith Victory agreed to try and rescue them.

Under small arms fire the ship loaded about 14,000 souls and all they could carry. There was standing room only on deck and in the five holds of the ship. After two days steaming south, the ship was diverted from overcrowded Pusan to the nearby island of Goe Je on Christmas Eve. The refugees were off loaded by the ships cargo cranes or on rope ladders into LST’s which transported 14005 to the beaches. Yes, five babies had been born during the short voyage. The island was populated by farmers and fishermen.

The SS Meredith Victory (built in So. California during the war) is now known as the Miracle Ship among the descendents on the Island, which has now been transformed into a center of large ship building.

Google “Meridith Victory” for more information. Next month I’ll tell you how a resident of Pilgrim Park is involved with this wonderful story.
